RE: Public Records Act Request No. 2019-00232

Dear Mr. Fisher:

Thank you for your email dated May 8, 2019, regarding CPRA No. 2019-00232. In response to your email and in further response to your request received on February 8, 2019, for records pursuant to the California Public Records Act (CPRA) (Gov. Code, § 6250 et seq.), we conducted a search for the following records:

All emails, including intra-office emails, sent to, from, or copied to Kamala Harris, from January 1, 2010 to December 31, 2013, containing the name "Daniel Larsen" or "Larsen," as well as any emails that contain reference to "Daniel LARSEN, Petitioner–Appellee, v. John SOTO, Respondent–Appellant" or case number "D.C. No. 2:08-cv-04610-CAS-SS."

Attached are all records responsive to your request that were not included in the records we provided you on March 26, 2019, and again on April 30, 2019. We are withholding a single record that is responsive to your request because it is exempt from disclosure pursuant to the attorney work product exemption. The attorney work product exception protects the confidentiality of any writing that reflects an attorney's impressions, conclusions, opinions, legal research or legal theories that is maintained as confidential. (Code Civ. Proc., § 2018.030.) This confidentiality provision is incorporated into the California Public Records Act as an exemption from disclosure. (Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k); County of Los Angeles v. Superior Court (2000) 82 Cal.App.4th 819, 833.) Records such as confidential analyses, draft language and memoranda prepared by California Department of Justice employees who are attorneys or act at the direction of an attorney are subject to the attorney work product exception and are consequently exempt from disclosure under the CPRA.

Subject: Please hold banks accountable

Dear AG Harris,

We need your leadership again! The national monitor for the National Mortgage Settlement recently revealed that several banks, including California-based Wells Fargo, are still in violation of terms of the agreement. This is unacceptable! These standards were put in place to protect Homeowners throughout California and across the country and instead the bankers refuse to comply. Will you stand with us and demand that these banks be held accountable to the laws and the Mortgage Settlement?

IT IS DISGUSTING THAT THE BANKS CONTINUE TO BREAK THE LAWS AND MAKE PEOPLE SUFFER. PLESASE DO SOMETHING MEANINGFUL ABOUT IT.

jane LARSEN

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

WE WANT TO HEAR FROM YOU

How many times have you exercised in the last 7 days? And what did you have for lunch today?

This week, we featured an ABA Journal podcast in which we talk to two exercise physiologists who work with Olympic-caliber athletes as well as executives and companies trying to integrate exercise and healthy diets into their work lives.

"I have worked with litigators during trials," says James Herrera, who coaches the U.S.A. Cycling BMX team, in the podcast. "I actually have a really good friend who lives here in town who is in that line of work. I have coached him for the last 10 years. We try to do simple things just to keep him active whether it be a little bit of walking or more standing than sitting during the day ... increasing the intensity of his workouts because he doesn't have the time to devote during the trial. He may only do something for 10 or 15 minutes, but he will really raise the intensity of that activity so he gets the biggest bang for the buck."

The Center for Creative Leadership's Sharon McDowell-Larsen, for her own part, decided based on the data on eating dairy and the negative health outcomes associated with it, to take dairy out of her diet. "I made that commitment and the first step in that commitment was not to buy [dairy]," she said in the podcast. "You tend to eat what you buy, so I didn't bring it home. When it wasn't at home, it wasn't there to eat. And the second step was just sort of learning when I went out to eat, whether I got a burrito, whether I got a pizza, just order it without cheese."

We all have to find a way to balance our workloads with our health and well-being. So this week we are polling you: How many times have you exercised in the last 7 days? And on the topic of well-being, what did you have for lunch today? Did you keep it light and healthy, or opt for fast food?

Answer in the comments.

Read the answers to last week's question: Do you have any unusual hobbies?

Featured answer:

Posted by Craig Eley: "One of my hobbies is beekeeping. My day job is as a judge, and after dealing with lawyers all day I find it relatively relaxing to deal with 60,000 venomous, stinging insects (the toughest part is keeping their names straight). If people find you boring, I recommend beekeeping as a hobby. For some reason, people think I'm fascinating when I'm speaking on the subject of bees. On the subject of law, not so much."
